Annexure-A
Explanatory note on the Draft Development Plan for controlled area and additional controlled area, Hathin-2031 AD

I Background:
Hathin is a tahsil headquarter of district Palwal. Study of this area reflects that the prime indicators of backwardness of this area are illiteracy, drought, floods, inadequate irrigation facilities and absence of alternative opportunities of employment other than agriculture. Hathin is a town as per census of India 2001.

II Location and Regional Setting:
It is situated on Palwal-Hathin-Punhana Scheduled Road at a distance of about 16 kilometers towards south-west from Palwal town. It is very well connected with the surrounding towns/villages with metalled road. Sohna is about 29 kilometers and Nuh at 25 kilometers from here. It is also connected with Delhi-Mathura road by metalled road taking off from village Aurangabad.

III Physiography:
The topography of this area is generally plane with fertile agriculture fields. The area on the west of the existing town is low lying and not suitable for development. Like other areas of this region, flooding around the settlement has been a common feature. During rainy season, water flows from north-west to south-east. There are several ponds in and around the existing settlement. With the construction of Uttarwar distributary on the west, Gaunchi drain on the east and other flood control measures taken up in this region as a whole, the flood situation has improved to a larger extent.

With this consideration, the new development proposals have been proposed towards relatively safer area from floods. The ground water table is low. The water is salty and brackish and not good for human consumption.

IV Availability of Infrastructure:
(a) Utilities:
Hathin is presently a small town settlement. The economy is based on agriculture and industrial labour. The Haryana Government has set up one 66 kilovolts electricity sub-station to supply smooth electricity to the industry and to fulfill the domestic needs of the public. The ground water is salty and brackish. The water supply is based on the Public Health Department distribution system. The sewerage system is provided in the major portion of inhabited area. However, the position of the drainage is not good. Hathin is well connected with the telecommunication system with an independent telephone exchange.
(b) Social Infrastructure:
At present, there is one Industrial Training Institute, two Government 10+2 schools for boys and girls, one Government Primary School, three private High Schools, one Employee Service Insurance Hospital etc. The existing social infrastructure is not satisfactory.

V Economic Base of the Town/Functional Status:
Hathin is a major economic center for surrounding area with administrative, commercial and industrial functions. Hathin forms part of the Mewat area comprising of blocks like; Hathin, Taoru, Nuh, Ferozpur Zhirka, Punhana and Nagina. Agriculture is the major activity of this town. For selling agricultural produce a Mandi has been established.

Haryana Urban Development Authority (HUDA) has developed an industrial area approximately 20.7 hectare in sector-2 and an area of 24.25 acres, earlier acquired under Mandi Township programme, for Commercial and Residential use.

VI Population/Demography:
Hathin, a small township, serving the surrounding region for agricultural produce and day to day shopping facilities. To regulate the growth of this erstwhile township, controlled area has been declared in the year 1981.

The population of Hathin, as per 2001 census, is about 10913 people. The decade-wise population and its growth in percentage is described as below:

From above table it is clear that Hathin has very slow rate of growth of population. The area around the town being primarily agricultural, there has been migration of population. To eliminate the industrial backwardness, it is proposed to induce industrial activities in the town, which will give boost to the development of other commercial and allied activities. Foreseeing the opportunities and potential of the town, in view of its proximity to the Kundli-Manesar-Palwal Global Corridor and the newly created district of Palwal the Draft Development Plan, Hathin has been prepared for a population of 46000 for 2031 AD assuming the growth rate as 60% and 65% respectively for 2011-2021 and 2021-2031 AD.

VII Existing Transportation Network:
Hathin is well connected by road and it is situated on Palwal-Hathin-Punhana road at a distance of 16 kilometers from Palwal. It is very well connected with the surrounding towns/villages with metalled road. Sohna is about 29 kilometers and Nuh is at 25 kilometers from here. It is also connected with Delhi-Mathura road by metalled road taking off from village Aurangabad.

VIII Need for Declaration of Controlled areas:
Hathin is a small but important nodal town for surrounding area. It is very well connected by road and is a big Mandi township. In order to channelise the development in a planned manner and to control the haphazard and piecemeal growth, the Government in the 3rd November, 1981, declared controlled area under Section 4 of the Punjab Scheduled Roads and Controlled Areas Restriction of Unregulated Development Act, 1963 (41 of 1963) vide notification No. 9950-10 DP-81/10669, dated the 5th September, 1981, which was published in Haryana Government Gazette dated the 3rd November, 1981. A Draft Development Plan for 2021 AD was published vide Haryana Government, Town and Country Planning, notification No. CCP(NCR)/PWL/DPD-HTN/2009/1086 dated the 21st April, 2009, for a projected population of 38000 persons by the year 2021 AD. However, the same could not be achieved in the absence of any induced growth of population and out migration. As per census of 2001, the population of Hathin is 10913 persons. The need of its revision has arisen due to the fact that the town is witnessing growth in a haphazard manner.
IX Constraints / Limitations and Potential:

Like any other area of this region, flooding had been the common feature in Hathin. During rainy season, water flows from north-west to south-east direction. There are several ponds around the existing habitation. The topography of the surrounding area is generally plane with fertile agriculture field. The area up to Palwal-Uttawar road on the west of the existing town is low lying and not suitable for development. With the construction of Uttawar distributary on the west, Gauuchi drain on the east and other flood control measures taken up in this region as a whole, the situation of flood had improved. With these considerations, the new development has been proposed towards relatively safer area.

PROPOSALS:

As explained earlier, the main concept, in envisaging the development plan of Hathin, is to extend the existing settlement in a planned manner to accommodate the future developments. Various major land uses have been proposed in such a manner as to enable the integrated development of the existing settlement. There are sufficient vacant pockets of land with in the former boundaries of Municipal limits, which can be developed. Provision for various land uses has been made as under:-

The existing town covers total built up area of about 116.93 hectare which accommodates a population of 10913 persons. This area is thickly populated. Approximately 85 hectare area of proposed residential zone has already been covered by the existing population. The development plan proposals have been made to accommodate an additional population of approximately 35087 persons by 2031 AD. The residential density of about 250 persons per hectare has been proposed for the residential sectors.    Keeping in view the future requirements of Hathin such as vegetable/grain market, truck stand, warehousing and other commercial needs about 41.30 hectare of land has been reserved for commercial purposes. The pocket of Commercial land in Sector 3(part) and 4(part) is proposed for commercial uses like; retail trade, Banks, Offices, Restaurants and other allied uses as well as grain market, vegetable market, truck stand, warehousing etc.

   It is proposed to provide industrial land to boost activity in this area and to accommodate about 7000 industrial workers. So the total land reserved for industrial purpose is 115.39 hectare for agro based, agro supporting and light industries in form of sector 2, 6 and 7. A green buffer of 30 metres and 60 metres width is provided between residential sectors and industrial area to avoid pollution.
4. Transport and Communication:

Circulation pattern of Hathin has been proposed on grid iron pattern. Total 154.25 hectare has been proposed for this use. A Transport Nagar having an area of 13.70 hectare has been proposed on Hathin-Uttarwar road in sector 11. The categorization of different roads is as under:

5. Public Utility:

As shown in the development plan, an area of 28.34 hectare has been proposed for public utilities i.e. for Water works, Disposal works, and Electric grid sub-station. Water works and Electric grid sub-station are already existing at site in sector 2(part) and 9(part). To meet out the future projected demand of water, which works out to 46000 x 180 = 82,80,000 liters or 8.28 MLD (million liters per day) the site for water works has been proposed in Sector-9(part). The development plan area is surrounded by Hathin distributory having sufficient potential to provide sustainable fresh water of 8.28 MLD, which is available along Hathin distributory in village Gehlab. The existing sites of water works have been accommodated in the development plan. A site for solid waste disposal has been proposed on Hathin–Gharot road. A site for the sewerage treatment plant has been proposed along the Gauchi drain on the existing revenue rasta.

6. Public and Semi Public:

About 52.63 hectare of land has been reserved for public and semi-public uses. The land has been reserved for this purpose in sector 1 and 12 (part), which mainly will accommodate public buildings like civil Secretariat, fire station, health facilities and other public utility buildings.

Agriculture Zone:

The remaining area surrounding the urbanization proposals, which is predominantly agriculture zone, is proposed to be reserved as agriculture zone. An agriculture zone, however, would not eliminate the essential building activities within this area, such as the extension of the existing village contiguous to abadi-deh, if undertaken the project approved or sponsored by Government, for ancillary facilities necessary for the maintenance and improvement of this rural area.

Zoning Regulations

The Legal sanctity to the proposals regarding land use is being given effect by a set of zoning regulations (Annexure ‘B’), which form a part of this development plan. These regulations will govern the change of land use and standards of development. They also will elaborate detail out allied and ancillary uses which will be permitted in the various major land uses and stipulate all change of land use and development shall be in accordance with the details shown in the sector plan thereby ensuring the preparation of detailed sector plans for each sector to guide the development and enforce proper control.
